THE MASTER'S DIPLOMA.

A regular graduate who has continued his studies for two years and practiced his profession during two full annual terms in the common schools of the state, may receive a second diploma, constituting him a Master of the course in which he was graduated.

To secure this diploma, a certificate of good moral character and skill in the art of teaching, signed by the board of directors, by whom he was employed, and countersigned by the county superintendent of the county in which he taught, must be presented to the Faculty and State Board of Examiners by the applicant. Blanks for this certificate will be furnished on application.

THE SPRING TERM TEACHERS' CLASSES.

At the opening of the spring term each year, teachers' classes are organized for the purpose of giving special opportunities to public school teachers who wish to prepare themselves for better positions.

A course of study has been arranged for them, which enables them to complete, in three spring terms, the studies arranged for the junior year of the Elementary Course (see page 12) and at the same time review the branches in which they will need to be examined by superintendents.

The arrangement is as follows:

The teachers' class (spring term) is divided into three sections according to scholarship. The first section will take the work laid down on page 12 for the first term of the junior year.

The second section of the class will take the work planned (on the same page) for the second term of the junior year.

The third section will enter the regular junior class and finish the junior work.

All subjunior studies must be completed before entering upon junior work. No one should attempt to take the work laid down for the third section who has not previously covered almost the entire work of the junior course, so as to be able to devote the spring term mainly to reviews.

EXAMINATION FOR TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

Teachers, twenty-one years of age, who have taught for three consecutive full annual terms in the public schools of the state, and who can present certificates of skill in teaching, signed by each of the boards of directors under whom they have taught, may be examined in both junior and senior studies of the Elementary course, and if they pass the examination successfully, they receive a Teacher's State Certificate.

Preparatory Collegiate Course.

(A three-years' Course.)

The branches of this course are pursued with the same thoroughness required of the students in the Normal Course. Students who complete either of these courses are ready for admission to the various colleges, and in many are admitted without examination in the subjects named. A diploma is granted to those who complete the course.

The Departments.

I. The Professional Department.

It is the distinctive province of this Normal School to train teachers. No work in the other departments is allowed to influence this or interfere with it. Throughout the preparatory year, daily instruction in the science and art of teaching is given, works on teaching are read, and notes and written criticisms are made by all pupils preparing to teach.

In the junior year the work is of a similar character, but more advanced, and is accompanied by lectures and discussions.

In the senior year four periods per day (over three hours in all) are given to professional work. Seniors are required to teach in the practice-school each day for twenty weeks. Those that make slow progress are often required to put in extra time.

This practice-teaching is done under the direct supervision of the Professor of Pedagogy and the Model School teachers, and in the presence also of a committee of seniors, whose duty it is to take notes and prepare to discuss intelligently all work done. In a subsequent meeting of the whole senior class called the "Criticism Meeting," the visiting committees report on the work done in their presence, pointing out failures and successes, and discussing all in the light of the principles of teaching and the laws of mental growth and development. Each senior holds his class in the practice-school six weeks and then takes a different class in a different subject. Twenty weeks' daily teaching and twenty of inspecting is the rule for each senior.

When it is considered that in addition to this practice-work in teaching with the attending work in criticism, every senior is given careful instruction in Psychology, Methods of Teaching, School Management, and History of Education, with lectures and discussions on each subject, the strength of the professional work of the school may be more fully comprehended.

THE MODEL SCHOOL.

A well graded and properly conducted Model School is the most important adjunct to a Normal School. It is here that the members of the graduating class do their practice-teaching. This school, therefore, is intended to be a model in grading, in discipline, and in results. It is claimed that the work done in this department is unsurpassed, and in strict accord with pedagogical principles.

The subjects of the professional courses are found on pages 8 to 10.

II. Preparatory Collegiate Department.

This department has been continued ever since the Bloomsburg Literary Institute became the State Normal School of the Sixth District. It is continued by special agreement made at that time with the state. The community and the trustees of the Literary Institute were unwilling to allow the institution, which they had founded and fostered at great expense and personal sacrifice, to become a state institution, unless the provision to furnish the young people of the community with a broad, general education, could be continued.

It has been the policy of this school to urge upon its students and graduates the importance and advantage of a higher education than a Normal School is fitted to provide, and it is a source of pride and gratification to those in charge of the various departments that the school is constantly represented among the students of the colleges and universities of the country, by from 75 to 100 of its former students and graduates.

In the Preparatory Collegiate department of the school a large number of both graduates and under-graduates are annually being prepared for entrance to college. While graduates in the Professional Department, because of their broader scholarship and fuller maturity, make the best college men and women (especially is this true after they have had experience in teaching), the course is so arranged that those who do not wish to take the professional work can be provided for.

Diplomas are granted to all who complete the course satisfactorily, and these are taken in lieu of entrance examinations at many colleges.

The growth of this department has encouraged the management to take steps to make important changes in the course and in the manner of conducting the work, and the department will do even more effective work in the future than it has in the past.

The program for the course of study is found on pages 13 and 14.

III. The Music Department.

The Music department of the school has been recently reorganized and placed under the direction of a number of competent instructors of wide experience in teaching both instrumental and vocal music. Every instructor has had conservatory training. The department is really a conservatory.

INSTRUMENTS.

The Virgil Practice Clavier has been added for the improvement of piano technique. In connection with this a Clavier Table is used for hand culture. A regular course may be taken on the clavier.

A number of new pianos have also been added recently. All instruments are of standard make and are kept in the best condition by frequent tuning.

Lessons are given on Violin and Guitar.

There are classes in sight singing, harmony, theory, and musical history.

VOCAL MUSIC IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Music is rapidly winning for itself a place in the public school curriculum. In many towns and cities there is an increasing demand for teachers who can teach music. For pupils desiring to fit themselves to teach vocal music in public schools, there are several classes a week.

SIGHT SINGING.

All pupils studying either vocal or instrumental music should take up the study of sight singing, so as to be able to read music at sight, which is the basis of a true musical education. In this a thorough study is made of the rudiments of music, and practice is given in rendering the best music.

RECITALS.

Recitals are held every month, and pupils will be required to take part. This gives them confidence and ease in playing and singing before others, an element which music students so often lack. Concerts are also held occasionally.

SOME RULES OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Lessons are charged from time of entrance only.

No deduction will be made except in cases of illness extending over a period of two or more weeks. No deduction will be made when pupils absent themselves from the lesson period without notifying the teacher.

Private lessons which fall on holidays will be made up to the student.

GRADUATION.

Graduates who complete either course receive a diploma. The diploma cannot be had by putting in time. It can be had only by pupils who have sufficient literary education to enable them to use well their attainment in music. See pages 15 and 16 for course of study.

IV. The Physical Culture Department.

This is in charge of a special instructor, who has for his aim the full and harmonious development of all parts of the physical organism. He is furnished with able assistants.

Health, grace, beauty, and ease of movement are secured by systematic training in one of the largest and best equipped gymnasiums in America. (See description elsewhere.)

Measurements are taken and exercises prescribed for developing the parts that need especial care. The results of training in the gymnasium alone are worth, to many students, more than they pay for their entire expenses in the school.

A GYMNASIUM CLASS.

V. The Manual Training Department.

Manual training is gradually winning its way into our public school courses. A score of years has witnessed its introduction into nearly every school which is known as a leader in educational methods. Its uniform success wherever introduced has so recommended it, that rooms for it are being provided in many new school buildings that are being erected.

Two large rooms provide ample space for this work. One room is fitted up for the accommodation of thirty people at a time in bench work. The other contains lathes, scroll saws and a grindstone, all run by power. The teacher in charge is one especially fitted by training and experience for this work, and is ably assisted by other well-trained teachers of this subject. Almost the entire school, including the Model school, at different periods in the day, pass for instruction to this department.

The department recognizes that constructive drawing is an integral part of manual training, and accordingly every construction is made from a previously executed working drawing. The teacher at the head of this department is also the teacher of drawing.

Exercises in nailing, chiseling and joinery (including the halved corner joint, ledge joint, dove-tail halved across, halved miter, mortise and tenon, simple and compound dove-tails) are given. Sloyd is also taught. A graded series of exercises in turning is given.

Much importance is attached to the making of school apparatus, all of which the pupil takes with him for use in his school.

During the senior year talks on the history and methods of manual training are given. The theory of manual training is discussed.

A special diploma is granted to those who show especial ability in this department, and who master sufficient of the subject to make them capable to teach it.

SUPPLEMENTARY INDUSTRIAL WORK.

Clay modeling, paper cutting and folding, are also taught in the school, and this instruction is a valuable supplement to the regular manual training work. Lessons in sewing and needle work are also given.

VI. The Department of Science.

The growth of the school and the increased demand for instruction in sciences which came with the adoption of the advanced courses of study, made it necessary to provide larger laboratories, and to furnish them with the best apparatus.

New chemical, physical, and biological laboratories have, therefore, been fitted up. They are presided over by able scientists, who are also skillful teachers of these subjects. The apparatus is ample, and of high grade. There is no extra charge for instruction, students paying only for chemicals, breakage, &c. (See expenses.) No old-time book work in science is done, but laboratory and field work, with the text book for a guide. The school is fortunate in its equipment and teaching force for work in science, and the students who take the instruction are even more fortunate.

VII. Stenography and Typewriting Department.

An experienced teacher, a graduate of the Cincinnati College of Phonography, gives lessons in stenography and typewriting. The starting of this department meets a growing demand, and many young people have availed themselves of this opportunity to get, at slight expense, a good business education.

Book-keeping and business arithmetic with lessons in English, all of which may be had in the other departments of the school, make a valuable addition to the stenography and typewriting, and fit young men and women for responsible positions.

It is a matter of gratification, that many who have received instruction in this department now hold responsible and lucrative positions.

Location, Buildings, Equipment, Etc.

THE TOWN OF BLOOMSBURG.

Bloomsburg is an attractive town, in one of the most beautiful regions of Pennsylvania, has a population of nearly seven thousand, and is easily accessible by the three largest railroads in the state: the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, the Reading, and the Pennsylvania.

The town has the district system of steam heating, a perfect public sewer system, pure water from a mountain stream, illuminating gas, and both the arc and incandescent electric lights. It is known as one of the thriftiest business towns in the state.

The school property attracts much attention, being situated on an elevation of over 150 feet above the Susquehanna. The view from this elevation is almost unrivalled. The river, like a ribbon, edges the plain on the south, and disappears through a bold gorge three miles to the southwest. Rising immediately beyond the river is a precipitous ridge four hundred feet high, backed by the majestic Catawissa mountain. The town lies at the feet of the spectator. Hill and plain, land and water, field and forest, town and country, manufacture and agriculture, are combined in the varied scene.

Fourteen acres of campus afford ample space for lawns and athletic grounds, and include a large and beautiful oak grove; while the five large brick buildings, shown in the frontispiece, are admirably adapted to their different uses. These buildings and their accompaniments are as follows :

INSTITUTE HALL.

This building stands at the head of Main street, and is plainly visible from all parts of the town. It was built in 1867. On the first floor are six spacious class rooms. On the second floor is

THE AUDITORIUM.

This beautiful audience room has been remodeled, refurnished and handsomely decorated, at great expense. It contains one thousand and twenty-six opera chairs, and, when occasion demands, can be made to accommodate many more people. The acoustic properties are apparently perfect.

THE MODEL SCHOOL BUILDING.

This handsome two-story building, which stands next to Institute Hall, covers about eighty feet by ninety feet, and contains about twenty-six school and recitation rooms, well ventilated and supplied with light, black-board surface, and the most approved furniture. It is here that the seniors acquire the theory of teaching, and practice in the art, twenty-one rooms being fitted up especially for their work.

THE DORMITORY.

The Dormitory is four stories high and was orignally in the form of a T, having a front of one hundred and sixty-two feet, and an extension of seventy-five feet. The buildings are supplied with steam heat, gas and sewer connections. On account of the steady growth of the school, this building was finally found to be too small to accommodate all who wished to attend.

THE EAST WING

was therefore erected, extending toward the river from the rear of the T described above. Its dimensions are one hundred and four feet by forty feet, and it furnishes accommodations for about seventy students. Extending across the end of this wing and on to the front of the building is a long piazza, about one hundred and forty feet in length. This fronts the river and from it may be obtained one of the grandest views in eastern Pennsylvania.

THE DINING ROOM.

This large room, with a floor space of over four thousand square feet, has been handsomely decorated, and is pronounced a handsome room by all who see it. The kitchen adjoining the dining room is complete in its equipment, containing the latest and best culinary appliances. The food is well cooked by a professional cook, and is of the best quality the market affords, while it is the study of the steward, and those who aid him, to furnish the table with as great a variety of food as possible.

A large room, forty feet square, adjoining the regular dining room, has recently been furnished to accommodate the increased number of students. A large cold storage room, adjoining the kitchen, has recently been provided for the better preservation of all articles of food.

THE NORTH END ADDITION.

The growth of the school has been so steady and so rapid that the buildings, in spite of the addition of the East Wing, were taxed to their utmost capacity, and even then failed to supply all the sleeping rooms and class rooms needed.

A large addition to the north end of the dormitory was therefore built. It was dedicated February 22, 1894, which was the occasion of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the school. It extends southwest to within twenty feet of the Model School building, to which it is connected by a two-story covered passage way. This building contains on first floor, a large study hall and library, a class room and a new manual training room, with power and stock rooms adjoining; on the second floor a large lecture room for the department of science, with apparatus room adjoining, and two additional class rooms: on third and fourth floors, additional dormitories for students.

THE GYMNASIUM.

At the southwestern extremity of the addition, extending northwest, is the gymnasium, ninety-five feet long and forty-five feet wide. It has been fitted up with the best apparatus made, is complete in its equipment, and from the first, took its place among the best gymnasiums in America.

It has a running gallery, baths and lockers for girls and boys in the basement, and a full-sized bowling alley is provided for.

A competent director and assistants have been secured, who make physical examinations and prescribe proper exercise for each student.

THE MANUAL TRAINING ROOM.

The room in which this subject is taught contains benches and tools for the accommodation of thirty pupils at a time. For information in regard to the work done, see page 21.

A NEW CHEMICAL LABORATORY.

The Chemical Laboratory heretofore in use became too small to accommodate the increased number of students who desire instruction in the science of chemistry. Accordingly, a new laboratory on first floor has been fitted up with modern appliances, and is now in use. It is large, well ventilated, and is provided with everything needful for successful laboratory work.

A new biological laboratory has also been provided.

THE LIBRARY.

On the first floor in the new building, near the gymnasium, is a large room, forty feet by sixty feet in size, handsomely furnished with shelves, desks, tables, easy chairs, &c., and serves the double purpose of library and study hall. This happy arrangement has the advantage of placing the student near the cyclopedias and other works of reference during his periods for study.

On the shelves are the school library, the libraries of the literary societies, and that of the Y. M. C. A., containing the standard works of fiction, history, the leading cyclopedias, dictionaries, and books of reference. The reading tables also are supplied with all the important local and national newspapers and magazines for the free use of the students. The value of the library is greatly enhanced by a card catalogue of the most approved kind and the constant attendance of a trained librarian to assist students in their research.

THE STUDENTS' ROOMS.

New furniture has recently been placed in the students' rooms, and spring mattresses have been provided for all the beds. The walls have been elegantly papered, and moulding from which to suspend pictures has been furnished. The rooms are about twelve feet by fifteen feet in size. Many students carpet their rooms and take great pride in decorating them and keeping them neat. Rooms are frequently inspected and habits of neatness and order are inculcated. The beds of gentlemen are made, and their rooms are cared for daily.

A PASSENGER ELEVATOR,

capable of lifting twenty-five to thirty grown persons at a time is under the constant management of an efficient operator. Climbing stairs, which is always so difficult for ladies, is now a thing of the past, and rooms on the top floors are sought for in preference to those below. They are more comfortable, quieter, and command a more extended view of the surrounding country. The elevator was built by the well known firm of Otis Brothers, and is their best hydraulic elevator, operated by the duplex pump and pressure tank system. It is provided with all the approved safety devices.

THE EMPLOYEES' DORMITORY.

This beautiful structure, a three story brick building with a handsome tower at the west corner, has recently been completed. In the basement is the laundry. The first and second stories are used by the help as their private apartments. The third story is used as a retreat for the sick, who need the quiet and care that cannot be had in the dormitories, where so many hundred busy students live. Apartments are fitted up for the nurse in charge, sanitary and other appliances are the most complete that can be found, while the grand view in all directions from the windows of this retreat is the best of medicine.

The need of such a retreat is very slight indeed, as the pure air of Normal Hill, together with the regularity of life, are tonics which improve the health of students as a rule, but cases of measles, etc., are not entirely unknown, and it is gratifying to feel that the trustees have made provision, even for the unexpected, in the nature of sickness.

THE STUDENTS' LECTURE COURSE.

In order that the students of the school may have the opportunity to hear some of the leading lecturers of the day, a Students' Lecture Course has been organized. On page 7 will be seen a list of the lecturers and entertainments of the past year.

It is the aim, by means of this course of lectures, to give the students enjoyment and culture, and the price of tickets for the entire course is only one dollar, or twenty cents for each entertainment. The talent for these lectures costs from five to six hundred dollars.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

An athletic association, composed of students, has charge of all out-door sports, such as base ball, tennis, foot ball, and the like ; and the directors of the association have done a great deal to foster and encourage an athletic spirit in the school.

Several clay tennis courts have been made and a tennis club has been organized. The strength of the base ball and foot ball teams is well known in this section of the state.

THE ATHLETIC FIELD.

The school has one of the finest athletic fields to be found anywhere. It is enclosed with a high board fence, and has a grand stand large enough to accommodate several hundred persons.

Former students will, perhaps, be more surprised at this change in the "Old Normal" than at any other that has taken place for many years.

THE SOCIETIES.

There are three flourishing literary societies, devoted to the intellectual improvement of their members. Weekly meetings are held, the exercises of which include Essays, Readings, Declamations, and Debates. Among the benefits to be derived from membership, by no means the least is the training received in the conducting of business meetings, and the knowledge acquired of Parliamentary rules. Prize debates form a distinctive feature of these societies.

DISCIPLINE.

All students are expected to observe such regulations as may be needed from time to time, in order to secure to themselves and other students all the benefits of the institution. Gentlemanly and ladylike behavior are matters of necessity, and no student is allowed to remain in the school who does not show by his devotion to work and his behavior, that he is in earnest in his efforts to get an education. The system of discipline used is not preventive, but rational, and has for its object character building.

RELIGION AND MORALS.

The school proceeds upon the principle that careful religious training is essential to the proper development of character. The religious teaching is evangelical, but not sectarian.

Chapel exercises are held daily. All students are required to attend church on Sabbath mornings. A Service of Song or a Bible Reading is conducted each Sabbath evening. The students sustain a Young Men's Christian Association, and also a Young Women's Christian Association, which hold separate prayer meetings each Thursday evening.

On Sundays many of the students meet in small groups, called "Bible Bands," for the study of the Scriptures. Attendance upon these is voluntary, of course, but it is very gratifying to note that each year it is increasing in numbers and interest.

Gospel Hymns, Nos. 5 and 6, are used in all devotional exercises. Students will find it convenient and profitable to provide themselves with a copy of these hymns, and take them to all meetings they attend.

THE FACULTY.

The trustees of the school realize that IT IS THE TEACHER THAT MAKES THE SCHOOL, and they have spared neither pains nor money to secure teachers of successful experience, broad culture, and established Christian character. As a result, the graduates of the School are young men and women who command good positions and good salaries, and who stand high in the estimation of the public. They may be found in all parts of the United States, occupying prominent positions of usefulness and influence.

It has been well said that "time and money are both wasted in attending a poor school, where the instruction is of an inferior character."

VISITING AND GOING HOME.

PARENTS ARE REQUESTED NOT TO CALL PUPILS HOME DURING TERM TIME, except in cases of absolute necessity. In such cases written permission from parents or guardians is required.

Every recitation missed places the pupil at a disadvantage, and seriously affects his standing.

Giving permission to visit friends is equally distracting.

When a visit home or elsewhere is contemplated it distracts the mind on the day of departure, and it takes the first day after returning to get the mind back to work.

This causes, practically, the loss of two days in addition to the time lost while absent, and makes the pupil lose much of the benefit for which he has paid.

BOXES FROM HOME.

Parents and friends are also requested not to send boxes of cooked eatables to students. Many cases of ill health may be traced to eating stale and indigestible food. Besides the ill effects of keeping eatables in a living room, boxes encourage eating at irregular times and produce other irregularities that interfere with good health and intellectual advancement. We guarantee good, wholesome food, well cooked and plenty of it; and we arrange to have as great a variety as the markets afford; so there is no occasion for sending food to students.

FOOT BALL TEAM, 1897.

WHEN TO ENTER.

Students may enter at any time. There are classes of all degrees of advancement. and students can always be accommodated, even in the middle of a term.

Students who need only one term's work to finish the senior or junior course will find it to their advantage to attend during the fall term, as during that term they will receive instruction in those parts of the various branches in which they are most deficient. The fall term is given to drill on the most important topics of the several branches.

APPLICATIONS FOR TEACHERS.

The Principal frequently has applications for teachers for positions, both within and outside of the state. Those who want schools are at liberty to put their names on his list, but they should inform him as soon as they secure a position ; while those who need teachers are urged to apply early that they may get the best.

OUTFITS.

Each student is expected to furnish for personal use the following articles : Towels, table napkins, one bed comforter, or pair of blankets, slippers, overshoes, an umbrella, a pair of gymnasium slippers, and a gymnasium costume. The gymnasium slippers and costume may be ordered after students enter and see what is needed. The use of this costume is made obligatory. Health and decency require it.

The cost of wash bowls, pitchers, and looking glasses must be deposited when these articles are received, but this deposit will be refunded when they are returned.

DAMAGES.

All damages done to the rooms, halls, furniture, or school property, will be charged to the students who do it. No nails, pins or tacks of any kind are to be driven into the walls or doors. All pictures must be suspended from picture mouldings. Pictures or other decorations pasted, tacked or pinned to the wall subject the occupants of the room to the expense of papering the entire room.

LAUNDRY REGULATIONS.

Each student is allowed twelve articles of plain clothing in the weekly washing. The following regulations are in force :

1. Have your name on every article of clothing. WRITE IT PLAINLY, AND USE NOTHING BUT INDELIBLE INK. Most missing articles are lost because of defective marking.

2. Have a large clothes-bag, so that ironed clothes need not be folded much when put into it for delivery. Be sure to have your name on the clothes-bag.

3. The personal wash must be ready for collection by six o'clock on Monday morning.

4. On Saturday morning, after breakfast, the personal wash will be delivered.

5. Exchange soiled bed linen (one sheet and two pillow cases) for clean linen on each Friday morning after breakfast.

STATE AID.

By an act of the Legislature, the following appropriations are authorized by the State of Pennsylvania to Normal School students and graduates.

1. Each student over seventeen years of age, who shall sign a declaration of intention to teach in the common schools of this state, may receive the sum of 50 cents per week.

2. Each student, who, UPON GRADUATION, shall sign an agreement to teach in the common schools of the state TWO SCHOOL YEARS, may receive an additional sum of fifty dollars.

3. Any student, to receive these benefits, must attend the school AT LEAST TWELVE CONSECUTIVE WEEKS, and receive instruction in the Theory and Practice of Teaching during that time.

4. In case of a deficiency in the amount appropriated by the Legislature for state aid to students, each student will receive his proportionate share of the appropriation.

EXPENSES.

Those who are seeking an education should use the same discretion and foresight in choosing a school that they use in other business matters.

It is possible to find cheaper schools than this. There are schools of all degrees of cheapness, just as there are suits of clothes from the worthless "shoddy" up to the very best.

This school guarantees to give to the students in benefits every dollar of its income both from the charges made to students and from appropriations. Added to this is the free use of buildings and apparatus that are worth half a million dollars.

Rates here are as low as it is possible to make them, and maintain a high order of excellence in instruction, and furnish the conveniences and living that students need.

The following tabulated statement gives full information in regard to charges. One-half in each instance is payable at the beginning of each term, the remainder, less state aid, at the middle of each term.

No extra charges are made for class instruction in vocal music, or for instruction in German.

A charge of 25 cents per term is made for hauling baggage. Baggage is handled by the school only at the beginning and end of each term.

For absence two consecutive weeks, on account of personal sickness, a deduction of the full amount for board and tuition is made. No deduction is made for absence during the first two or last two weeks of any term, except in the case of teachers whose schools do not close in time for them to enter at the opening of the term.

The scale of charges is made on the basis of two students to each room, and an extra charge will be made for all students who prefer to room alone.

Rooms engaged beforehand will not be reserved longer than the middle of the first week of the term, except by special arrangement.

SCHOLARSHIPS—'93.

The class of 1893 left, as its memorial to the school, a sum of money to be loaned to some worthy young man or woman who might need financial assistance in his efforts to complete the teacher's course. The person who receives this aid is expected to pay it back in monthly payments, without interest, within two years after receiving it. He is expected, also, to give some responsible person as security for the amount, so that in the event of his or her death, or failure to pay, the sum may be recovered for future use.

'94, '95, '96, '97 AND '98.

The classes of 1894, '95, '96, '97 and '98 also each left a sum of money to be loaned to worthy students, according to the same conditions. The sum is not sufficient, in any instance, to pay the expenses of an entire year.
